

ST. MARY'S FEMALE SEMINARY-JUNIOR COLLEGE ALUMNI 1846-1940 St. Mary's City, Maryland

P1915_1910sps_038 – From the 1910s Photo Scrapbook (MSS 019)

Founded as St. Mary's Female Seminary in 1840 and funded by way of lottery, the cornerstone for Calvert Hall was laid in 1844, the Board of Trustees was organized in 1845, and classes began in 1846. In 1928 two years of Junior College were added to the school, and for a time, the school graduated both high school and junior college classes, with the last high school class graduating in 1960. The name was changed to St. Mary's College of Maryland in 1964 and converted to a four-year college beginning in 1969. Male students sometimes attended as "day hops," but did not stay on campus until 1965.

This St. Mary's Female Seminary-Junior College Alumni Directory, 1846-1940, is an ongoing project to assist researchers and genealogists. This list includes all known individuals who attended St. Mary's Seminary and St. Mary's Junior College, and is not limited to graduates. After a fire burned Calvert Hall in 1924, many records were lost and this list is, by no means, complete, and is a perpetual work in progress. Information has been gathered from additional resources within the St. Mary's College of Maryland archive, such as graduation programs, the 1925 yearbook, student record files, index cards kept by the Office of Advancement, the published alumni directory, and the minutes of the first Alumnae Association.

Please contact Kent Randell, College Archivist, at kdrandell@smcm.edu or 240-895-4196 if you have any additional information to contribute to this list

A special thank you goes out to volunteers Linda Reno and Samantha Magli, who have volunteered their time to assist in updating this directory.

Broughton, Elizabeth Nairn "Bessie" graduated 1892. Married (1) Frankel, Rev. Clarence David "Francis (?)", pastor of the Ep. Ch. (Feb. 1, 1900, Pocomoke City, filed for divorce in S.D. in 1903); mar. (2) Kettell, Rev. George Frederick [Jr.] (July 29, 1903, Grace Ch. Chapel, Baltimore. He died Oct. 28, 1904, Sparrow Point, Baltimore)
Born December 1872 (1900 Census), dau. of William T. and Alice Maria Broughton of Pocomoke, d. July 25, 1959, she is probably the "Bessie B. Kettell" buried in a mass grave (no other information) at the Eastern State Hospital Cem., Williamsburg City, Va. Virginia".
Notes: "While at St. Mary's Bessie Broughton was awarded a medal for highest average in "Vocal music."

Bessie Broughton married first Rev. Clarence David "Frankie" Frankel, a pastor of the Ep. Ch., on Feb. 1, 1900 in Pocomoke City, removing to Nebraska and later Florida. She filed for divorce in 1903 on the grounds of non-support, unfaithfulness, and cruelty. In order to obtain this divorce, she had to remove to Sioux Falls, North Dakota and secured work in a publishing house, where she was granted a "Dakota Divorce," as North Dakota had lax divorce laws, and evidently her husband denied her application for divorce in Florida. A child, Zora (HS 1919) was born of this marriage. This divorce received national news coverage.

Shortly after her divorce was finalized, she returned to Maryland and married second Rev. George Frederick Kettell [Jr.] on July 29, 1903, in a "secret ceremony" that was kept quiet, at Grace Church Chapel in Baltimore. The Rev. George Frederick Kettell [Jr.] was born about 1870 (age at death) in Carlsbad, Germany, where his father, Rev. George Frederick Kettell [Sr.] was United States Consul. His father was a prominent Episcopal Minister and presiding elder of the Brooklyn, N.Y. district. He once published a pamphlet titled, "A Sermon on the Duty of Citizens, with respect to the Fugitive Slave Law," which advocated adherence to the law. His son, Rev. Kettell [Jr.] was a graduate of Harvard, where he was also a rower. He was a teacher before entering the ministry.

While serving as Assistant Rector at Christ Protestant Ep. Ch. in Baltimore, in 1903 Rev. George F. Kettell [Jr.] was called to a new position in New Jersey. However, he was promptly non-recommended (fired) by the Bishop on the grounds that he married a divorced woman, which was also reported upon in papers across the country. After this incident (and while threatening to bring civil suit against the church), he returned to teaching public school. Unfortunately, this resulted in another news item with the family being reported as missing in August of 1903 when they moved without notice before the start of the next school year. Finally, shortly after the latest incident, Rev. Kettell downed off of Sparrow Point, Baltimore, on Oct. 28, 1904 while going out for a row, a hobby he had enjoyed since his time at Harvard. Though many suspected that his death was a suicide, it was ultimately found to be accidental. A child, George Frederick Kettell [the 3rd] was born of this short marriage.

Bessie Broughton kept the surname of her second husband after his untimely death. Her daughter from her first marriage, Zora, changed her surname from Frankel to Kettell. Bessie Broughton Kettell enrolled in college courses for teachers at Johns Hopkins in 1912. She was vice president of the woman's advertising club of Baltimore in 1913

This author is unable to find further evidence about Bessie Broughton Kettell between 1913-1940, although three different notecards from the alumni office files state she died July 25, 1959 without reference to a third husband. No SSDI entry, no obituary online, no findagrave (though there is a Bessie Kettell in a mass hospital grave with no other information), no Census entries for 1920 or 1930. It is also unclear where her children lived in 1910 and 1920.

1880 Census: Pocomoke, Md., family head father "Wm. T." Broughton (b. abt. 1841), carriage trimmer, wife Alice Maria (b. abt. 1851), brother William E. (b. abt. 1870) and sister Lilly B. (b. abt. 1878)

1900 Census: Pocomoke, Md., with first husband "Francis" Frankel, Clergyman (b. Dec. 1871 in New Jersey), daughter Zora not yet born. The given name of her husband is listed incorrectly on this Census register.

1910 Census: Baltimore Ward 11, Md., with mother Alice M. Broughton, unemployed (b. abt. 1851), sister Esther L. Broughton, Clerk at an Electric Co. (b. abt. 1885). She is "Bessie Kettell," and is a "Forelady" at Trust Co. Her children, Zora and George, are not living with her, and this author has not found them on any 1910 Census. Note: "Bessie Kettell" is not indexed, and this entry can be found by searching for her mother.

1920 Census -- Bessie/Elizabeth/Betty Broughton Kettell Cannot find.

1920 Census -- daughter Zora: Philadelphia Ward 38, Penn. Zora Kettell working as a clerk at a hosiery mill (the same place as her aunt), liv. with her grandmother, the widow Alice Broughton (b. 1852, Md., unemployed), her aunt the widow Daisy B. King (b. 1883, Maryland, registered nurse), and aunt, the single Esther L. Broughton (b. 1888 in Maryland, shipping clerk).

1930 Census -- Bessie/Elizabeth/Betty Broughton Kettell Cannot find.

1930 Census -- sister Daisy B. King, nurse in Cleveland, Cuyahoga Co., Ohio, not living with sister Bessie.

1930 Census -- sister Esther L. Broughton, Baltimore Ward 15, manager at an insurance office, living with Lucy Richardson.

1940 Census: living in Central, Essex Co., Virginia (mis-indexed as "Batyr B Kettell"), probably "Betty B. Kettell," unemployed widow (liv. in Courago [probably Cuyahoga Co.], Ohio in 1835), with her sister Daisy B. King (b. abt. 1878, nurse, lived in Westchester, N.Y. in 1935). Sister Esther L. Broughton (b. abt. 1885) living next door with "friend" Lucy F. Richardson (lived same house in 1935, and together in Baltimore in 1930).⁸¹

Notes: was said to have been withdrawn by her father in 1851 after witnessing the reputedly harsh treatment by an instructor.

Her father, Col. J.H. Sothoron, and her brother Webster, were involved in a fatal conflict with Lt. Eben White of the Union Army on October 19, 1863. Lt. White went to the Sothoron's plantation, named The Plains, to enlist his slaves, and an argument ensued which resulted in the death of Lt. White. The Col. and his son escaped to Richmond, Virginia across the Potomac while the mother and children (including seminarian Margaret H.

Sothoron) were placed under house arrest, a situation mentioned in a letter written by President Lincoln, who wrote: "It is represented that the family [Sothoron] are substantially imprisoned in their house by our soldiers and are on starvation. I submit that perhaps some attention better be given to the case." Lincoln again wrote in March 1864 that, "Why can they not occupy their old home and excite much less opposition to the government than the manifestation of their distress is now doing?" In September 1865, Mrs. Sothoron wrote to President Johnson as follows: "Suffer me to impose upon your notice in behalf of myself and my seven suffering innocent and unoffending children. I have observed your magnanimous pardon to prominent Rebels in the Border States, the Army, and Navy and amnesty to all. I see no reason by the same should be denied me and my helpless family. For months I was guarded by the military. A part of the time held as a prisoner in my own house. I received all kinds of taunts and indignities, was not allowed even the necessaries of life. I lived upon the bounty of my neighbors. Knowing there was no cause for deserting my home and having none other to seek, I bore all uncomplainingly. I was left without a living soul to provide me even a stick of wood, but for the timely succor of friends I know not what would have been my fate. Everything has been taken from me [and] to give you all the particulars would be beyond the limits of a letter. For nearly two years I have been a homeless wanderer without means of support, my children suffered and living upon the charity of the world and my life a living death." Col. Sothoron at this time had fled to Canada. Barnes Compton (the husband of this early seminarian) interceded and by February of 1866 and the family was allowed to return to the Estate. On November 27, 1866, Col. John H. Sothoron was indicted by the Grand Jury of St. Mary's County for manslaughter in the death of Lt. Eben White, and having received a trial in a County where many were partial to the Confederacy, was found innocent. Col. Sothoron unsuccessfully petitioned the government for reimbursement of losses for property lost as a result of the Second Confiscation Act.

Barnes Compton attended Charlotte Hall Military Academy; graduated from Princeton College in 1851; elected to MD House of Delegates in 1859, again in 1867 and 1869; during the Civil War he fled to Virginia for two years and returned after Lincoln was assassinated -- he was arrested and imprisoned at the Old Capitol in Washington.⁶¹⁷
